Order of Business in the House

A Washington special of the 10th says A gentleman who has talked with Randall says that one reason which prevents the leaders of the Democracy from coming to an understanding as to the order of business in the House is the determination of the anti tariff people not to take up the Morrison bill this session The remainder of the committee, seven, are inclined to make the Tariff bill part of the order, but Randall threatens to bolt the entire order and carry forty-one Democrats with him. Randall predicts that the order will be First the Naval bill second the Sundry Civil bill, third the Fortification bill, etc, until the Appropriation bills have been disposed of and then, at the end of the second week in July an adjournment

CONGRESSMAN REED'S VIEWS.

Thos. B. Reed, the leader of the Republican minority in the House, and the next Speaker providing the Republicans are in the majority in the next House, was renominated by the Republicans of Portland on Friday last. Mr. Reed addressed the Convention at length. Referring to the fisheries he denounced the Morrison bill. The Administration and the Departments he referred to it in the following terms: 'The Secretary of State has managed the fishery question on so broad an international scale that we are still in the clouds. You, who know the close knowledge Mr. Blaine had of these affairs, can judge what condition he would have had these things in by this time. The Secretary of War has so skillfully presided over the destinies of this unfortified country that during all these troublous times there has been no strike of the Department clerks. The Secretary of the Navy, empowered fifteen months ago by the Republicans of the last Congress, assisted by a minority of Democrats, to build four war ships, has thus far not yet completed even the specifications or plans of one of them. Two years are liable to elapse before a stroke of work can be done on any of them. It is true that he tried to break down the Dolphin, but as he did not succeed I cannot put that down on the list of his achievements. The Postmaster General has refused American shipping the encouragement voted it by the two Houses of Congress. The Secretary of the Interior, in addition to the slight aid he was able to give the Solicitor General, has done considerable to prevent General Sparks, his Land Commissioner, from upsetting all the land titles in the Far West. The Attorney General, with the powerful assistance of his able Solicitor General, has so managed the Pan-Electric as to occupy the attention of all the people for nearly a year. The Secretary of the Treasury has followed the course of his predecessors, and so deserves well of his country."

THE OREGON ELECTION.

The result of the election in Oregon is a disappointment to Republicans, although the Congressman was re-elected. The State ticket is equally divided between the two parties. The defeated Republicans were identified with the management of State affairs which had become odious to the independent Republicans, and particularly to those who opposed Mitchell as United States Senator, and is one of the signs of the times that the corporations and money powers can not always fly in the face of the people, and foist their creatures into office, in express disregard of public sentiment. The managers of the Republican party in Nevada should take warning by the Oregon lesson. The lower house of the Oregon Legislature is Democratic, but the Senate remains Republican. This Legislature does not elect a United States Senator. As the Governor, Secretary of State and Treasurer constitute a State Board for the government of all institutions, the Democrats will have control of the State for the next four years.

The Prohibitionists have carried Raleigh, the capital of North Carolina. Now the Governor of North Carolina will think "it is a long time between drinks," indeed, and the cordial and convivial friendship between that public functionary and the Governor of South Carolina, made famous in song and story by that terse assertion is likely to end in a decided coolness.

Senator Fair said Thursday that the Carson Mint would be re-opened as soon as the appropriation for its maintenance had been made. Of course it will, but what assurance can the Senator give that the appropriation will be made.

The United States Senate deserves another white mark for passing the bill prohibiting Senators or Congressmen from being attorneys for railroads that have been aided by the Government.

THE SENATE AROUSED.

It Passes a Bill Directed at Railroad Attorneys.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Senate to-day took a stand, by a big majority, against a practice which has brought down on that body the severest criticism. The ablest lawyers in the Senate have been in demand to appear before the Supreme Court in behalf of railroad corporations. The big fees for such work have invariably fallen to the members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, who have in charge all bills that touch the vital parts of the subsidized railroads, and they have been especially conspicuous in the Supreme Court in behalf of railroads aided by the Government. Some time ago Beck introduced the following bill:

Be it enacted, etc., That it shall be unlawful for any member of either House of Congress to accept employment as an attorney-at-law, or payment for services of any kind, from any railway company, or any officer or agent thereof; which obtained its charter, any grant of lands or pecuniary aid from the United States. And any person who violates this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $5,000 and imprisoned for not more than one year, at the discretion of the court.

When this bill was introduced it was not referred to any committee, but was laid on the table, to be called up at any time. This morning Beck called up his bill. Edmunds was in his seat, reading a newspaper, and Evarts was sitting beside him. Edmunds at once moved that the bill be referred to the Judiciary Committee, of which he is Chairman, but Beck said the bill embodied a simple proposition, which could be voted upon at once. He objected to its going to a committee, where it would be killed. Edmunds then suggested that the bill be sent to the Committee on Finance, but Beck would not consent to his bill running the risk of going to any committee. When Edmunds found that he could not have it referred by the consent of Beck to any committee, he insisted on his motion to refer it to the Committee on the Judiciary. Beck demanded the vote on reference by ayes and noes, which was taken. It was a close contest, the Republicans voting for reference, and the Democrats for immediate consideration. The vote stood 21 for referring it, and 24 against. Beck then demanded an immediate vote on the bill, which was taken by ayes and noes. The bill was carried by the strong and positive vote of 37 for it and 11 against it. The following is the vote:

Ayes—Allison, Beck, Berry, Blair, Brown, Butler, Chase, Cockrell, Coke, Colquitt, Cullom, Dolph, Eustis, Frye, George, Hale, Harris, Harrison, Hawley, Jones, of Arkansas, Kenna, McMillan, McPherson, Mahoney, Maxey, Miller, Morrill, Palmer, Plumb, Pugh, Ransom, Saulsbury, Sherman, Vest, Whitborne, Wilson, of Iowa, and Wilson, of Maryland—37.

Noes—Brown, Cameron, Dawes, Edmunds, Evarts, Hoar, Mitchell, of Oregon, Riddleberger, Sawyer, Sewell and Teller—11.

It was thought that the bill would be sent to the House at once, where it was believed that it would go through without doubt, but late in the afternoon Hawley, who voted for the bill, gave notice that he would move to reconsider it. This hangs it up until Hawley asks for its consideration, and it does not go to the House until after that. The lawyers in the Senate, who spend much of their time in the Supreme Court, will now exercise all their ingenuity to stifle the bill, but Beck is a well-trained parliamentarian and he will doubtless endeavor to put the blame conspicuously on the little set of men who will now try to kill the measure.

It seems after all that Speaker Carlisle's plan for arranging a programme of business for the remainder of the session is likely to fall through the inability of the committee of chairmen to agree upon anything. Each committee has its measures to urge and is not willing to yield. It is stated that but three of the committees have yet made reports to the sub-committee, and the outlook for an harmonious agreement is so unfavorable that the Speaker has about concluded to abandon the attempt. It now appears that things will will go on in the usual way with a general scramble for precedence and the right of way.

Suspended Animation.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 11.—A remarkable case has just been brought to light in this city. Hugh McIntyre, a young Irishman, apparently died, and his remains were placed temporarily in a vault at Detroit. Eight days after an uncle visited the vault with the intention of removing the body to the cemetery, and was horrified to see the young man sitting up in his coffin, the glass of which was broken. Young McIntyre was very weak and pale; and his hands were lacerated and bleeding, but he was still alive. He was at once removed. His wife was terribly frightened at his appearance, after having mourned him as dead.

The Fiftieth Congress.

A Herald's Washington special of the 10th says: Certain members of the present Congress, who have reasonable grounds for anticipating their re-election, have under consideration a plan for the permanent organization of a society of membership of the Fiftieth Congress, which is to round the first 100 years of our national existence. The first gentleman who will have the honor to join this society is B. Hermann, of Oregon.

The next President of the United States, says the Baltimore News, will be George W. Childs, of Philadelphia, if he will accept the nomination. The party which brings him forward will make sure of success for itself, and secure the country a good President. For in the choice of the next Executive the personal and individual merits of the candidates will enter more largely than ever before; will tower above everything else, and if there is a principle or platform involved it will be based rather upon the labor issue than any other.

No one of the applicants for the place of Postmaster at San Francisco can be said to have a sure thing, as no intimation has been given yet upon which to base any opinion as to who will be the lucky man. Moulder seems to be regarded as first favorite, but W. J. Bryan, recently appointed Consul at Marseilles, France, has become prominent in the fight. Hearst said he gave the President at his request a list of names, but he is not advocating the claims of any one in particular, and is indifferent as to who gets the position.

The Times says editorially: The Republican party is getting a liberal education in the school of adversity. The Republican State of Oregon has just given it a lesson by electing a Democratic Governor. It is the old story of selfish leaders, ring rule in the party, open revolt and independent voting. The history of the national election in Oregon in 1884 is repeated in the State election in Oregon this year.

President Cleveland rejoices over the Oregon victory and says it is a triumph of Democratic principles. The President is mistaken. How can it be a triumph of Democratic principles when the Republican Congressman was elected.

Colonel Lamont denies that there is a coolness between President Cleveland and Governor Hill.

Wm. M. Stewart has a plan for enlarging the State of Nevada, and we earnestly suggest that he publish his ideas on the subject in pamphlet form. Give us another pamphlet; it makes work for the printers.—Elko Independent.

BREVITIES.

Yesterday was a windy and dusty affair.

John Howell, of the reduction works, will be in Reno Tuesday.

Dave Bailey was in town Friday evening. He left for the Bay yesterday morning.

Charley Lyons came down from the Comstock Friday evening en route to Clipper Gap.

Judge McKenney returned from Virginia last night and will remain here until to-morrow.

Uncle Gsorge Walker returned from Carson last night, and will leave for Winnemucca this morning.

The Reno Brass Band have received their new instruments and will loom up at Carson on the Fourth.

E. N. Riotte, formerly of the Auburn Mill, arrived from Chicago Friday night, and it is more than likely will resume his old position in Reno.

Col. Heriot, agent for Moran Bros., has purchased for the N. & C. road several acres of ground near the planing mill. It will be used as yard room.

W. M. Stewart discussed the political issues of the day from a Republican standpoint at Armory Hall last night, and to an audience of about 150 persons.

Judge Edwards has rendered a decision in the case of Clawson vs. Short and Baldwin, involving the Winters mine in Douglas county, in favor of Clawson.

The proprietors of the San Jose Mercury have sent the JOURNAL their special edition, entitled "Grand Army Edition Daily Mercury," containing 24 pages of very interesting agricultural reading. The cover consists of a birdseye view of the famous Santa Clara Valley, looking south from San Francisco.

Amity Lodge, No 8, K. of P. Friday night elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Brewster Coffin, C. C.; S. J. Hodgkinson, V. C.; T. F. Laycock, P.; J. F. Aitken, M. of F.; D. McKay, M. of E.; G. R. Mosher, K. of R. & S.; H. R. Campbell, M. at A.; C. C. Powning, Trustee; Dr. A. Dawson, Medical Examiner.

SENATOR FAIR HEARD FROM.—The following letter, which we clip from the columns of the Enterprise, explains itself:

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4, 1886.

To Messrs. Tobriner, Kersey, Cohn, Klein and Doyle, Finance Committee, Fourth of July Celebration, Carson City, Nevada:

GENTLEMEN:—I have your esteemed communication of May 22d, and take much pleasure in enclosing you a draft for $100 toward the expenses of our National Anniversary at Carson City. I beg also to tender you my thanks for your kind invitation to be present, and I hope to be able to avail myself of this opportunity to meet many old and valued friends. Wishing your committee much success, I have the honor to be yours very truly.

JAMES G. FAIR.

DEATH OF MRS. CAUGHLIN.—Mrs. W. H. Caughlin was attacked with another hemorrhage yesterday morning, and died before the Doctor could reach her. Mrs. Caughlin was a noble woman in every respect, being a good wife and mother, and to the husband and children her loss is irreparable. The large circle of friends and acquaintances will deeply regret that she has been taken away while yet in her youth, but wish her the choicest blessings the other world has to bestow. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence on Mill street, and friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

ROLL OF HONOR.—The following is the Roll of Honor of the North Truckee school for the month ending May 28th: Kate Kinney, 98.7; May Kinney, 96.6; Frank Smith, 95.6; Vernie Fraser, 94.5; Robbie Fraser, 92; May Pollock, 91.5; John Bryant, 91; Wallace Van Meter, 90.6; Bertie Gault, 90.

ELLA BISHOP, Teacher.

STATE UNIVERSITY.—Two weeks more and the first term of the State University of Nevada at Reno will have ended. This has been a trial term, and has been all that was expected and even more. The University is in a new place; new professors have had charge, and new students have been in attendance. Not only have the professors shown their skill in their management of the University by the course they have adopted and the methods of instruction pursued, but the students have gladly taken advantage of the rare privileges offered them and have devoted their time almost exclusively to study and literary work. It is safe to say that never in the history of the University of Nevada has it stood firmer or presented equal inducements to the youths of the State to enter its halls.

During the term, through the kindness of the Board of Regents, the influence of Professor Willis and the correspondence of Principal McCammon, nearly 500 volumes of books have been added to the library; many of the finest specimens of petrifactions and of the mineral productions of the State have been placed in the cabinet; some useful apparatus put in the chemistry and assaying rooms; a Hall type-writer for the convenience of the students in preparing their bi-monthly paper has recently been purchased, and every few days some new improvement has been made.

Sixteen fine, thrifty trees are growing on the campus; and a mound and flower beds have been planted with seeds from the Department of Agriculture.

Almost every day brings word from some noble, ambitious youth who is anxious to enter this institution—the grandest of our State—and prepare himself for the responsibilities of life. Parents, encourage your sons to take a step up the educational ladder. This is an age of educational advantages and "mind power must rule the world."

A WELL-PATRONIZED TRAIN.—The Sacramento Bee says: The new train for Reno went through on time yesterday, leaving here at 11:45 A. M., and going to Truckee in seven hours, and arriving here on time this afternoon. The overland train consumes two hours more than this in the 120 miles of distance. Coming down, the Reno train makes the run in five hours and fifty minutes. It consisted of two well-filled coaches and a smoker when leaving here yesterday and to-day. Yesterday a dozen San Francisco school teachers went up to Truckee by this train and left this morning for Tahoe, to remain a month. Tourists can stop at Truckee, go by stage to Tahoe, take the steamer, go around the lake and return to Truckee the same day for less than $7. Crossing the lake to Glenbrook and taking the stage to Carson, they can go by the Virginia and Truckee Railroad to Reno, which is reached the same night, and on the following morning resume their journey overland by the regular train. The fare for the round trip from Truckee to Reno over this route is fixed at $6.

WHAT IT COST.—The Gazette says: "The Reno Steam Laundry is one of the best on the coast and the cost has been almost the least of any. The Trustees paid the expenses of Mr. Mulcahy once and Mr. McInnis twice to Truckee and San Francisco to study the subject of buying and operating the machinery. The works were built in the most careful manner and their washing shows them to be first-class. The cost was as follows:

Machinery	$1,658 91
Labor, setting up machinery and erecting building	465 00
Lumber	776 25
Pipes and hardware	205 95
Total	$3,106 11

There was paid in for stock about $2,300 and from receipts of ball $68, making a total of about $2,368. Like almost all new ventures it has not been profitable in starting. Its prices are not up to Chicago or San Francisco rates, but they are higher than the Chinamen have been charging. There have debts occurred for supplies and labor in excess of receipts of several hundred dollars and there is no means of operating at a loss. Some means will be found to put it on its feet this week and make it successful if possible."

The Chronicle says the Western Union repeating office will be removed to Reno, but the Enterprise declares that it will not be removed.

CHURCH NOTES.—First Congregational Church—Rev. G. M. Spencer, pastor. Preaching on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; Sabbath School directly after morning service; evening service at 7:30.

Episcopal Church—Rev. Wm. Lucas, rector. Services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; Sunday School at 1 P. M., evening service at 7.

Methodist Church—To-day will be more than usually interesting. Morning service will be devoted to what is called Children's Day, a day given to the Sunday School children, consisting in singing, responsive reading, etc., and the collection is for the purpose of assisting any in obtaining an education. Subject for the evening, "The elements of true friendship, or Paul in prison."

STOCKHOLDER'S MEETING.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Steam Laundry Association is hereby called for Monday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Secretary's office in the Odd Fellows' building. By order of the President.

C. H. STODDARD,
Secretary.

The Carson Index says:

Reno and Washoe county neighbors in general indicate a very friendly and hearty intention to be present in large force of numbers at Carson on July 3d to assist in the celebration of the National Day.

Reno is a very lively town between the hours of 8 and 9 in the evening.
